Dunbar Township to Have Athletic Field of Its Own; "Tom" Kearns Donates It

Announcement Made at Football Banquet That Tract
Will Be Lensed Free.

LOCATED NEAR TROTTER

Probability Is Steps Will Be Taken
To Fence It In Readiness for Next Year's Activities; Present Field
Restricted Use of Frick Field.

Dunbar Township High School
gridders may have played their last game on the Trotter field. Monday evening at the annual football banquet at the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A.
Auditorium, Michael Kearns, a graduate of the high school, class of 1923, one of the leading boosters of the school and another 100 per cent fan, spoke in behalf of his father, T. F.
Kearns of near Lenoirville, N. J. The older Mr. Kearns, Michael said, will furnish a football field for the high school free of charge.

"My father has two fields which can be used for football playing," he said. "He is not decided which one will be made into a playing field but he is going to make a field out of one of them and will leave it to the Dunbar township high school for a period of 5, 10, 15 or 20 years free of charge.
It is just a matter of time that work on the field will begin."

In all probability the playing field will be enclosed similar to a big league ball park and a grandstand built. Although the Trotter field was located in an excellent place, the high school was not permitted to enclose it, as it was against the rules of the H. C. Frick Coke Company to charge admission to any sporting activity that is held on its property. Because of this the school could not force patrons to purchase tickets.

The site offered by Mr. Kearns is understood to be between his home and the Huntington slag bank, about midway between Trotter and Lenoir-ville. It is nearly opposite the junction of the road to Uniontown with that to Lenoirville.

President Pleased With Good Will of Connellsville Folks

It was a pleasure to meet the citizens of Connellsville who throughout the Baltimore & Ohio station to greet him on his way to and from Chicago last week, President Coolidge indicated in a letter from the President's secretary, C. B. Brown, to the W. C. Bishop, who was active in arranging the demonstrations here and who wired the President asking that he appear on the platform of his train. The letter reads:

"The President appreciates recytling your telegram on December 5 and was very glad indeed that the train on which he returned from Chicago stopped in Connellsville and that he had an opportunity to see some of the citizens of your city."

Old Furnace Made New In Monongahela Plant

Furnace No. 1 of the Monongahela furnaces of the National Tube Company was blown in Monday with simple ceremonies. This furnace was the oldest furnace in the group, but recently was raised and the present furnace built at an approximate cost of $1,000,000.

Miss Nancy Shaw Young, 12-year-old daughter of Frank Young, an official of the company, lighted the torch which started operations. About 500 workmen participated in the ceremony.

Black Bear Seen In Fayette County

According to the Smithfield correspondent of The Courier a black bear was sighted by a party of hunters near Wynn's Gap in Fayette county, a short distance from the West Virginia line.

"They failed to bring down Mr.
Brun, as he was not the kind of game
they were in pursuit of," the correspondent says.

Smithfield Hunters Get Deer and Bears

J. I. McCracken of Smithfield killed
an eight-prong buck in Potter county, according to word received yesterday
from members of a party of hunters which has been there for a week.
"Holly" Hubbs and John Gates each
got a bear, the message said.

Troop No. 5 Meeting Postponed.
There will be no meeting of Troop
No. 5, Boy Scouts, this evening owing to the lack of a meeting place. It is expected that permanent quarters will be secured by next meeting night.

Office Seekers Making Life Hard For President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President
Coolidge is just learning what a hard job it is to be President. The patronage hunters are descending on him in regiments.

During the past 16 months Mr. Coolidge has had little trouble with the patronage situation because he inherited a complete administration from President Harding. His only contact with this problem was at the time when vacancies occurred.

Now, however, he has a four-year administration of his own about to begin and all the old patronage conflicts are being dug up. Every candidate who was unsuccessful four years ago is bringing his claim to the White House and demanding a new deal.

Besides a daily influx of people proposing candidates for Cabinet offices,
which it is reported, will be vacant next March, notably agricultural and labor, Mr. Coolidge hears tales of woe about federal judgeships, federal revenue collectors, immigration commissioners, federal district attorneys,
right down to postmasters.

When Republican national committeemen, senators and local politicians cannot agree the disputes are taken to the President's office which is the court of last resort in the party organization.

BODY OF YOUTH WHOSE CAR WENT OFF FERRY DRAGGED FROM RIVER

The body of Charles C. Nugent, 23, son of William Nugent of Waynesburg, who was drowned Monday morning when the roadster in which he was riding was either driven off or ran off the Massena ferry, about 90 feet from the Greene county shore, into 45 feet of water, was recovered
late in the afternoon by searchers who had been dragging the river all day for a trace of the body. The body was found lodged in a submerged tree about 300 feet below the scene of the fatal accident by a party of three men composed of Frank Kapriva, Frank Humber and Ben Lardon, all of Massena, who were dragging the river with grappling hooks.

At about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the roadster was discovered in the water about 90 feet from the Greene county shore but when it was drawn up the river bank the body of Nugent was missing. Nugent was identified by a name plate which was attached to the key ring on which was also the key to the car. When the machine was brought to the shore
it was found that the key was turned onto the battery indicating that Nugent had tried to start his machine.
The side curtains were up and both doors were closed. A call to Waynesburg developed the fact that Nugent was missing.

CONNELLVILLE SCHOOLS WELL UP IN ATTENDANCE

Connellsville schools finished the month of November with an attendance record of 95 per cent. The figure for the year to date is 97 per cent.

During the month there were 264
lardy marks. The fifth and sixth grades had very few of these, being credited with only eight each. The High School, where students are older, led in tardiness, 175 being recorded at that building.

In other buildings the tardy record showed Third Ward with 20, Second Ward with seven, Crawford School with 21, South Side with 20 and Cameron School with 18.

By building the percentage of attendance was: Third Ward, 94; Second Ward, 97; Crawford, 96; South Side, 96; Cameron, 96; High School, 96.

During the month the total enrollment was 3,049. The Third Ward had 363; the Second, 247; Crawford, 412;
South Side, 416; Cameron, 686; and High School, 1,126.

In the month there were 155 sessions of illegal absences. Three arrests and three convictions were reported.

Raymond Desmore Has Pneumonia.
Raymond Desmore is very ill of pneumonia at his home in North Pittsburg street. His brother, Frank, is confined to his home in North Third street, West Side, with grip.

No Arrests Made.
There was no police court this morning. No arrests were made over night.

British Justice Unmoved by Prayers to God, Petitions to Government, Violence Threats

Palater Slayer of Woman Goes to Scaffold Despite All Efforts.

GREAT CROWD GATHERS

By United Press.
HULL, Eng., Dec. 9.—William George Smith, a young painter, for whose reprieve thousands of persons prayed in an open field Sunday and on whose behalf workers of Hull threatened a general strike, died on the scaffold today.

Petitions to the home office proved unavailing. A crowd of 4,000 gathered outside the prison gates and sang a hymn while the execution was taking place. There were no immediate disturbances, despite the threat of Commander Kenworthy, M. P., that rioting and bloodshed would ensue
unless Smith were reprieved.

Smith killed a married woman with whom he had an affair. She was older than he and the sympathies of the community were with the condemned man. He climbed the scaffold unassisted, prayed for a moment and met death bravely. Outside the music of the hymn swelled on the morning air, many women fainting as the thud of the execution could be heard.

MILLION LOSS WHEN FIRE SWEEPS GRAIN ELEVATOR AND BOAT

By United Press.
PORT HURON, Mich., Dec. 9.—Fire
of unknown origin today destroyed
the Grand Trunk Elevator Company's elevator and the barge Alexander Midland here, with large stores of grain, at an estimated loss of a million dollars.

The fire started in the elevator and spread to the barge. Efforts of men to break the cable holding the Midland
to its dock proved futile.

Six hundred thousand bushels of grain was destroyed in the elevator and a grain cargo valued at $150,000
was lost on the Midland.

JOSEPH F. FRIEL NAMED PRESIDENT OF MACHINISTS

Fayette Lodge No. 472, International Association of Machinists, at its last regular semi-monthly session
held in Moose Hall elected officers for the ensuing year. The contents for the various offices were spirited and resulted as follows:

President, Joseph F. Friel; vice-president, Thomas Nes, Jr.; treasurer,
A. L. Lowe; financial secretary, K.
K. Buttermore; trustee, Thomas A.
Irwin; conductor, James Sheets;
sealman, Joseph McDermott; delegate to district convention, Joseph F.
Riley; representative to system convention, Joseph F. Riley; delegate to the local federation, Joseph F.
Riley; A. L. Friel and J. Raymond
Smith; grievance committee, Joseph
F. Riley, A. L. Friel and J. Raymond
Smith; delegates to Trades and Labor Council, J. M. Keane, J. W.
Peterson and Joseph Humberston;
tellers, Martha A. Rottler, W. H. Boyd and C. A. Morgan; past president and assistant, George T. Potter.

Installation will take place the first meeting night in January, 1925.

FORMER JUSTICE PITNEY IS DEAD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Former Associate Justice Mahlon Pitney of the United States Supreme Court died at his home here early today after a long illness.

South Connellsville Paving Is Under Way

Paving of Pittsburg street, South
Connellsville, is under way. The West Penn Railways Company has shifted its line to the middle of the street as far south as the postoffice and is engaged in laying brick. The base is down as far as the Atlas Hotel.

Contractor P. J. Ridge has started work on the base on the west half of the street, it being the intention to complete that first.

Mildred Sidaway Has Appendicitis

Miss Mildred Sidaway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Sidaway of Fritter, a young student at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., was stricken suddenly with appendicitis and was removed to a hospital in Baltimore to undergo an operation.
The message received here stated her condition was serious.
Mr. and Mrs. Sidaway left last night for Baltimore.

PROVISION NOT STUDIED

Prior to Insertion in Present Income Tax Law; Reasonable Rates Better Than Indirect and Artificial Restraints, Declares Secretary Mellon

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1924, by The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—While "tax reform" is not one of the administration proposals for this session of Congress, there is unquestionably a good deal of sentiment in Congress for amendment of the present revenue act where specific harm is being done in the application of the law.

Much has been said about the publicly provisions of the law but there is another phase, namely the gift tax which is coming in for widespread criticism. Under the present act every gift of more than $500 to any one person, even to members of one's immediate family, must be reported and is taxable if there already has been given away $50,000.

The tax applies to corporations, too,
and the question has arisen whether companies will be inclined hereafter
to give pensions to the injured or employees retiring at old age, or to pay bonuses if those gifts are to be taxed,
and the total expense thus increased.
If a company had a large number of employees the total taxes would be large, even though the bonus to the individual employee might be small.

This tax on generosity, if not philanthropy in some instances, together with the penalty that it imposes on the rightful distinction by companies of giving their employees what they earn by faithful service, is all due to an effort to prevent avoidance of tax payments by the few who give their money to members of their family or close friends so as to escape high surtaxes.

Some of the inequitable features of the present law are to be noted in the case of a man who gives away $50,000 a year to another for 10 years. That giver pays no taxes, nor does the recipient. Since the gift is on an annual basis only the giving of $50,- 000 a year would avoid taxation and yet at the end of 10 years a total of $500,000 would have been donated.
Should a corporation attempt to give away $50,000 in any one year in bonuses to its employees, the total tax would be $10,000. Yet in each case $500,000 is the amount of the gift.

The gift tax provision was inserted in the present law on the floor of the Senate and was not referred to any committee.

"In consequence" says Secretary Mellon, "it was never thoroughly studied and not tied up with other provisions of the law. As an example, if a donor should give away a piece of property which cost him $50, 000 and which at the time of the gift was worth $100,000, he is taxed on the basis of $100,000. If the donee should then sell this property for $100,000 he would be taxed on the basis of what the property cost the donor and be obliged to report $50,000
profit for income tax purposes, although the property was sold at the same price which fixed its value for taxation as a gift."

"Aside from the grave constitutional question of the right of Congress to tax gifts at all,
the gift tax is just an excellent

MANLEY M. LEWIS NEW TEACHER IN DUNBAR TWP. HI

Manley M. Lewis of Columbus, Ohio, is the latest addition to the Dunbar Township High School
faculty. Mr. Lewis is teaching commercial studies, replacing Joseph H.
L. Good who was forced to resign due to poor health.

The new teacher is a graduate of Elmer College at Columbus. Last year he taught at Astabula, Ohio. Mrs.
O. W. Bolton, wife of Rev. O. W.
Bolton of Dunbar, died in the vacancy until Friday. Mr. Lewis is making his home in Connellsville.

BENEFACTIONS BY MONEY KINGS PASS THE BILLION MARK

Gifts by Eastman, Kodak Magnate, Brings His Total to $58,000,000.

J. B. DUKE GIVES VAST SUM

John D. Rockefeller Still Heads List,
With Over Half Billion, Followed
Closely by Late Andrew Carnegie;
Henry C. Frick's Total $55,000,000.

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Announcement of huge gifts to charitable and educational institutions by George Eastman, head of the Eastman Kodak
Company of Rochester, and J. B.
Duke, North Carolina tobacco and power magnate, bring the total recent benefactions of wealthy Americans to well over the billion-dollar mark.

Eastman yesterday announced gifts of $12,500,000 to four educational institutions in his native state, while Duke announced creation of a trust fund of $40,000,000 for similar purposes in North Carolina. The Eastman gifts brought his total benefactions to $58,000,000.

A list of huge gifts in recent years
includes: John D. Rockefeller, $75,- 000,000; Andrew Carnegie, $350,000,- 000; H. C. Frick, $55,000,000; Milton
S. Eisenhower, $20,000,000; George Eastman, $58,000,000; James B. Duke, $41,500,000; Mrs. Russell Sage, $40,- 000,000; Henry Phillips, $31,000,000;
Benjamin Altman, $30,100,000; John S.
Kennedy, $30,000,000; John W. Sterling, $20,000,000; George F. Baker, $11,500,000; Mrs. Stephen V. Harkness, $9,000,000; William J. and Charles Mayo, $7,000,000; J. Ogden
Armour, $6,000,000; John Jacob Astor,
$1,000,000; Lotta Crabtree, $4,000,000;
George Crocker, $3,500,000; I. V. Williamson, $2,500,000; Joseph. Milbank, $1,757,000; Jacob H. Schiff, $1,350,000.

SCIENCE WINNING IN CASE OF MAN WITH STONE NOSE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9.—Science has once more conquered a strange disease and Joseph Shaboda of Trenton, N. J., who was dying by inches at the Howard Hospital here from an ailment that was turning his nose to stone, was reported as much improved today.

The youth was stricken with the manly known as rhinostone five years ago. Slowly his nose began to harden and the disease spread to the throat, threatening partial strangulation.

Sibbalds came to the hospital less than a month ago and physicians for a time were baffled how to combat the disease.

Noted specialists became interested in the case and the patient was given strong X-ray treatments.

Anniversary Week Will Be Made Big Event for Scouts

The executive board of the Fayette County Council, Boy Scouts, at a session Monday evening in Uniontown, made preliminary plans for the observance of the 15th anniversary of the national organization in February.
The aim will be to have this year's observance the greatest that has been held in the county.

Announcement was made that during February all Scouts who have passed merit badge tests and first-class Scouts will be given their badges of honor. In the county is one
"eagle," Merle Gwynn of Brownfield, and one "star," Edison Goldsmith of Connellsville.

The resignation of Ralph P. Sliger of Connellsville as field executive was accepted. No successor was named.
The regular meetings of the executive board were set for the third Monday of each month. The next will be January 19. Officers will be elected at that time.

New troops are being organized at Palmer, Point Marion and Brownsville.

Seven Jurors Are Accepted in Case Of A. A. Millman

Seven jurors to serve in the trial of A. A. Millman of Philadelphia, alleged to have been a conspirator on the Hoover liquor case, were selected in court in Uniontown by the middle of the afternoon. It is charged that Millman purchased the liquor, seized by local and federal authorities.

The jurors selected are:
Richard Bulger, Jr., South Brown-
ville.
Harry Crawford, South Union township.
John A. McDermott, Connellsville.
Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Connellsville.
Lester S. Condit, South Connellsville.
Jacob Leighty, Dunbar township.
George Adams, Fairchance.

Hospital Auxiliary Formed At Gathering of 150 Women Enthusiastic Over Movement

3,000 Coke Ovens On Active List Since Election

The Coke Region is making steady progress toward a resumption of activity on a larger scale than has prevailed for several years. Within the past 10 days approximately 1,200
ovens have been added to the active list which increases the total additions since election to almost 3,000
ovens.

Both the furnace and merchant groups of producers are taking part in the forward movement, both additional ovens at plants already in operation and restoring long idle plants to activity. Last week the H. C.
Frick Coke Company fired up 470
ovens including additions at Collier, Hostetter, Leisenring Nos. 2 and 3, Phillips, York Run and Oliphant. The latter had not been in operation since last May. This week 300 more Frick ovens are being put in blast at Calumet, Crossland and Marguerite, not one of which has been making coke for several months.

Meanwhile the merchant operators have been making proportionate increases in their active oven quota, 130 ovens having been brought to production since December 1 at Century,
Puritan No. 6, Mount Hope, Oliver
No. 2, LaBelle, Lincoln, Sterling and Shamrock. Four of these plants closed down at the beginning of the recent slump and since have been out of blast.

SPLINTER IN LEG LEADS TO TETANUS; DUNBAR CHILD DIES

Stella Yagin, 10 years old, daughter of John and Mary Yagin of R. F. D.
No. 1, Dunbar, died in the Uniontown Hospital Monday evening at 8:40 o'clock of tetanus. While helping around the barn on the family's farm,
a splinter was run into her leg on Friday, November 30. The injury failed to heal and an infection developed. She was removed to the hospital Sunday morning when her condition became alarming.

The girl was a member of the fifth grade at the Lenoirville No. 3 school and was at her classes as usual last Friday. Although in the fifth grade, she was attending school but her fourth year. She was said to be one of the brightest members of the school. The father said that she never was ill before in her life.

Besides her parents, who survived by four brothers, Frank, Joseph,
Henry and Edward, and one sister,
Jennie, all at home.

The body was removed this morning by funeral director F. S. Durst of Connellsville to his funeral parlors
where it will be prepared for burial.
The funeral service will be held Thursday morning at Holy Trinity Roman Catholic Church with burial in the church cemetery.

C. H. S. FOOTBALL PLAYERS GIVEN THEIR LETTERS

Members of the Connellsville High School football squad, awarded letters for their service on the gridiron
during the past season, were named this morning by Coaches J. A. Letew and Caskey Seale.

The list is larger than usual because of the fact that a number of substitutes got into a majority of games when regular were inactivated early in the season. No date for the annual banquet has been set.

The players awarded letters are:
Van Marletta, James Stouffer, George
Stoner, John Long, Nowell, George Wagon, Edward Lowe, Albert Win-
grove, Charles Uils, Harold May,
Charles O'Donnell, John Gans, Walter
Johnson, Dixon Crum, Clark Boyd,
John Don, Earl Trump, Bedford
Angle, Edward Chorpennell, Arthur Vorstad, Robert Willard, Joseph Donadio, Leopold Schuler, Raymond O'Connell, Joseph May, Antonio
Maset and Manager Joseph Perella.

Two Firemen Hurt In Pittsburg Blaze

PITTSBURG, Dec. 8.—Two firemen were injured, six children helped to safely and damage estimated at $15,- 000 was caused early today when fire destroyed two dwellings and damaged another on the Northside.

The fire originated from an overheated stove in the home of Charles Skiles, a fireman.

Organization of a ladies' auxiliary
to the Connellsville Hospital Association, with Mrs. Fred Frisbee as president, was effected at a meeting of about 150 women Monday afternoon at the Kiwanis Club rooms at the Carnegie Free Library. Mrs. Frisbee presided as temporary chairman, and immediately after the minutes of the previous meeting had been read by Mrs. J. French Kerr, temporary secretary, the nominating committee submitted its report, which was followed by the election of officers which took up the entire afternoon, it being about 6:30 o'clock when the tally clerk,
Dr. Katharine Wakefield, Mrs. J.
French Kerr and Miss Harriet Clark, completed counting the ballots.

Other officers elected were: General vice-president, Mrs. John B.
Davis; recording secretary, Mrs. Louis Strallov; treasurer, Mrs. Sara Gul-bord; corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Armstrong; financial secretary,
Mrs. H. C. Hoffman; vice-presidents,
Mrs. E. C. Hibbs of the First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. W. P. Clark of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Miss Mary Parkhill of the First Methodist Protestant Church, Mrs. E. B.
Zimmerman of Trinity Lutheran, Mrs.
John H. Work of the First Baptist,
Mrs. J. Melvin Gray of the Christian,
Mrs. A. R. Kidd of the First United Presbyterian, Mrs. A. E. Vannatta of the Immaculate Conception, Mrs. Max
Rackoff of the Jewish congregation,
Mrs. Lucy Davis of Trinity Episcopal,
Mrs. J. H. Dorman of Trinity Reformed, Mrs. H. L. Krepps of the United Brethren, Miss Phoebe Dunn
of the Greenwood Methodist Episcopal, Mrs. W. H. Shupe of the South Connellsville Evangelical, Mrs. Elizabeth Carroll of the Church of the Brethren, Mrs. G. Corradi of St. Rita's
Catholic Church, Mrs. Don Froelander of Dunbar, Mrs. J. H. Hazlett of Vanderbilt, Mrs. Florence Moore of Dawson, Mrs. Howard Adams of Perryopolis, Mrs. R. D. Fenn of Mount Zion Baptist, Mrs. Sarah Sanders of Union Baptist.

Two women from the various churches of the city were nominated for the office of vice-president, one being elected from each.

The nominating committee was composed of Mrs. William J. Bailey, Mrs.
John F. Torrence, Mrs. William F.
Solomon, Mrs. A. I. Danfies, Mrs. Frank
W. Wright, Mrs. Paul B. Dick, Mrs.
H. L. Krepps and Miss Harriet Clark.
A meeting of the auxiliary will be held Tuesday afternoon, December 16, at 2 o'clock in the Women's Culture Club room of the Carnegie Free Library, at which "Business of Importance" will be transacted. The new officers will take their places and committees, including one to draw up a constitution and by-laws and one to confer with the Connellsville Hospital Association, will be named. This being a meeting of much interest it is hoped that the women of Connellsville and surrounding towns will turn out in large numbers.

State Will Keep Connellsville Road Free From Snow

By United Press.
HARRISBURG, Dec. 9.—Nearly 1,500 additional miles of state highway have been added to the snow clearing schedule of the State Highway Department, it was announced today.

This winter, it was announced, 4,200 miles of roads will be kept clear of snow, compared with 2,800 last winter. This is a development of the highway service that began with the World War when it was found necessary to clear the Lincoln Highway because of the heavy transportation of war materials by motor trucks.

The snow shoveling crews will operate this year on the following sections, according to a statement today:

The National Pike, Lancaster Highway, Williamsport Highway, Lackawanna Trail, Susquehanna Trail, Chicago-Buffalo route, Baltimore Pike, Lakes-to-sea highway, Pittsburg to Erie via Butler, Pittsburg to Erie via New Castle, Pittsburg to Washington, Greensburg to Connelville, Connetquot and the Pennsylvania border, Philadelphia to Sunbury via Pottsville, Gettysburg to Harrisburg, Harrisburg to Lancaster, Gettysburg to the Maryland line, York to the Maryland line via Snowsboro, York to the Maryland line via Red Lion, Lewisburg to Sunbury, Milltown to Sunbury, Lewisburg to Centre Hall and Bellefonte, three sections out of St. Mary's and three out of Warren, Titusville to Keokuk, Pittsburg to Klemm, Blairsville through Indiana to Marion Center, Pittsburg to Monongahela, Greensburg to Belle Vernon, Dittmer to Pennsylvania, Jannettown to Johnstown and Ebensburg, Johnstown to Gallatin, Altoona to Tyrone, Altoona to Hollidaysburg and Claysburg, Altoona to State College, Water Street to State College, and Williamsport, Harrisburg to Danvers, on the west shore of the river, Millersburg to Pottsville, Pine Grove to Pottsville.

Routings to Lancaster, Lebanon to Downingtown, Allentown to the Delaware line, the Pottstown and Downingtown, Allentown to Philadelphia via the Bethel Pike, Carlisle to Tipton, Towanda to Waverly, Stroudsburg to Port Jervis, Sunbury to Scranton, Wilkes-Barre to Tunkhannock, and Clark's Summit, Wellsboro to Galeton, Mansfield to Tionesta via Wellsville.

Constipation Overcome.
The use of Foley Cathartic Tablets will bring speedy relief from constipation. It takes no time. They are purely vegetable and act on the liver. Mr. John D. McComb, Lucas Co., Iowa, Toledo, Ohio, writes: "Have used Foley Cathartic Tablets in severe cases of constipation to which I am subject and found them beneficial." Foley Cathartic Tablets are easy to take, leave no unpleasant after effects. Try them. Sold everywhere. Advertisement.

RED PIMPLES ON FACE AND NECK

Skin Dry and Itched and Burned. Cuticura Heals.

"My skin became dry, itched and burned, and my face and neck were badly affected with small pimples that were hard and red. The pimples were scattered over my face in small patches and the irritation caused me to scratch the affected parts. I had the trouble three months when I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and after using four cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Alex. Navoney, 620 Garfield Ave., Scudsdale, Pa.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for daily toilet purposes.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Connelville Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Connelville resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. M. Thorne, 209 S. 7th St., says: "At times, my back became lame and sore and pained in a dull, nagging way. I had headaches and dizziness. After using Dean's Pills, from Harmon's Drug Store, the dizziness disappeared." (Statement given August 9, 1919.)

On December 9, 1922, Mrs. Thorne said: "I had quite a bit of trouble with backache due to kidney disorder. Dean's Pills cured me of the attack." Price 50¢ at all dealers. Don't miss a chance for a lifetime remedy. Get Dean's Pills the same that Mrs. Thorne had. Foster-McMunn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

Then Why Hesitate?

Mr. Youngblood—Miss Gloria, if I should like you would you call for your father?

Miss Gloria—Yes, but he's not at home.

Failures Caused by Lack of Initiative

One of the greatest improvements of the automobile is the self-starter, now found on all but the cheapest kinds of cars, which need to be cranked by hand.

The device suggests the reflection that a very large proportion of the human family require something of like nature.

They lack initiative, voluntary effort, they need cranking in the form of orders or directions before doing anything worth while.

The men and women who succeed in life and get the most out of it are of the self-starter type. They don't wait to be told or advised what to undertake, but proceed of their own accord to do things.

The great inventors, such as Edison, are all of this sort, says the Sacramento Bee. They are originators, not mere followers or imitators, and they rank among the chief benefactors of the world.

COD LIVER OIL KIDDIES LIKE

The Improved Way to Give Kiddies Cod Liver Oil Is Making Thousands of Mothers Happy.

Doctors tell mothers, "Give the child Cod Liver Oil" and then the trouble begins. Everybody knows there is nothing better in the world for weak, scrawny, skinny, growing kiddies than Cod Liver Oil, but it is next to impossible for mothers to get them to take the terrible tasting, ugly smelling oily stuff. They hate to take it and mothers hate to force it upon them.

But along comes Hypo-Cod in Tablet Form, the Improved Compound Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites Tablets, and mothers smile. This wonderful health formula contains the millions of vitamins contained in Cod Liver Oil and children swallow them as quickly as they would a piece of candy. And besides, Hypo-Cod Tablets contain the Combined Hypophosphites of Lime, Soda and Iron to purify the blood and increase strength and vigor; Quinine, Manganese and Strychnine to aid the stomach, heart and nerves, and the greatest of all blood enrichers, Peptonate of Iron. It's the very same formula which has been used in the celebrated Barlow's Hypo-Cod for years. This famous health tonic has built up thousands of weak, frail, stinky kiddies.

Don't make your child take terrible tasting Cod Liver Oil, but hurry to your drug store for a bottle of Hypo-Cod Tablets. Remember, you can get your money back if you're not satisfied.

Recommended in Connellsville by Connellsville Drug Co., Detroit Drug Store, and in Dunbar, Central Drug Store, and other good druggists everywhere. Two weeks' treatment $1.00.—Advertisement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The Interior Department appropriation bill, the first of the regular supply measures, carrying appropriations aggregating $238,123,126, was passed today by the House and sent to the Senate.

As usually adopted by the House the total appropriation was $305,019,918 less than appropriation last year.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—A bill providing for voluntary consolidation of railroads for a period of five years and relieving the Interstate Commerce Commission from the duty of preparing a plan of merging the carriers into a limited number of systems was introduced in the House today by Representative Winslow Republican, Massachusetts, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee.

No provision is made in the bill for compulsory consolidation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—President Coolidge believes the result of the German election is a hopeful sign for future peace and prosperity so far as they indicate continued support for the Dawes plan, it was made known at the White House today.

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans' Bureau, "investigated" John W. Thompson and ascertained his firm of Thompson & Black was "upright, honest and reliable," before granting him contracts to build government hospitals. Elias H. Mortimer testified today in the Forbes-Thompson fraud trial here.

The testimony was drawn from Mortimer on cross-examination by counsel for Forbes. Mortimer is the government star witness in its efforts to convict Forbes and Thompson of charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the letting of contracts for veterans' hospitals.

Jack Zivic Scores Knockout in Bout With Nate Goldman

Jack Zivic, of Pittsburgh, uncorking a surprising punch, last night stumped a big crowd in Motor Square Gardens by knocking out Nate Goldman in the second round.

The crowd had already begun to "rave" the Pittsburgher for his showing in the first round when he was terrifically pounded by Goldman. Zivic is not known as a knockout artist and it took a few moments for the fans to realize they had actually witnessed a "kayo."

Fought to Establish Jewish Independence

The Marchenbes was the name of a family in Syria, which during the Second century before Christ, resisted the persecutions inflicted upon the Jewish nation by the Seleucids.

After the death of Mattathias, the leader of the revolt, in 165 B. C., his son Judas Maccabeus, defeated the Syrians in three battles, reconquered Jerusalem, purified the temple, and restored the worship of Jehovah, says the Kansas City Star. He was slain in ambush in 161 B. C., and was succeeded by his brother, Jonathan, who was named to the dignity of high priest, but was afterward treacherously slain at Ptolemais in 144 B. C., by Tryphon, the guardian of the young prince Antiochus Theos.

His brother, Simon, then succeeded to the leadership of the commonwealth, and completely established the independence of the Jews. After seven years of beneficent rule, he was murdered, together with his two sons, by his son-in-law, Ptolemy, who, allied to the Romans, conquered Judaea, and took the title of king, 107 B. C. Syria became a Roman province in 63 B. C.

Opal Diggers Work Hard for Small Remuneration

Of all the rough "outback" jobs in Australia, digging for opals is about the worst. Coober Pedy lies in the heart of the Stewart range, 170 miles from the nearest station on the East-West railway, and its whole population of between 70 and 80 diggers lives underground in burrows scratched out of the hillside. At the shanty, in which the diggers keep their tools, is the only sign of life showing above ground.

Every morning the diggers come out of their holes and set out for the opal fields, to cut patiently through the rock in the hope of finding the beautiful black diamonds lying beneath. Between them they have dug many thousands of dollars' worth of opal in the last four years, though they have worked only a small area of a field said to be 40 miles long. In normal times opal is worth about $16 an ounce, but now that there is practically no demand for the gems the diggers have opal, but no money.

Six Miles of City Ruins Discovered in Nevada

Reno, Nev.—Ruins of a buried city, six miles in extent, have been uncovered by an exploration party headed by Gov. James G. Serrano, the governor announced in a telegram from Bentley, Nev., where the exploration work is being carried out.

Many rock writings, thousands of fragments of pottery and other prehistoric articles have been found, the governor reported.

The city lies along the Virgin river in the southern part of the state.

SENTIMENT FAVORS EARLY CORRECTION TAX INEQUITIES

Illustration of the futility of trying to prevent avoidance of excessive taxes and still not permit legitimate transactions. Under the statute, if property is sold or exchanged, the difference between the value of the property and what is received is considered a gift. So, if a seller makes a bargain, he suffers not only his loss on the bargain but he must pay a gift tax on this loss. The more he has lost the more tax he has to pay. The duty devolves upon the taxpayer to report every transaction where he received less in value than he gave, and upon the Bureau of Internal Revenue therefore, to pass upon innumerable business transactions.

Secretary Mellon says examples of the "unsound nature of this attempt to close loopholes for the avoidance of excessive taxes could well be multiplied" and that it is better "to adopt reasonable rates of taxation which do not compel avoidance, and to avoid indirect and artificial restraints upon usual and proper transactions. Something is wrong with our tax policy if legislation such as this is necessary to make the collection of revenue effective."

The Senate committee which is investigating the administration of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is headed by Senators Coughlin of Michigan, who has already found many things wrong with the gift tax and his committee is considering the recommendation in its reports of several amendments.

It may be a year before the whole problem of tax reform is tackled in earnest, but the inequities of the present law are every day demanding attention as the new law passed by Congress last spring becomes more familiar to the taxpayers. The chances are they will learn their first lesson about the law's unique provisions from now on, as they begin to prepare for the returns that are payable next March on transactions of every sort occurring in the year ending this month.

Crate Fattening Favored

If you have been keeping a supply of cockerels for table use, these will be much improved if specially fattened for two or three weeks before killing. Crate fattening is a simple method of producing remarkable improvement in quality of flesh, and in most instances the gains in weight secured during the process most less than any realized during the growing period. If crate fattening is not convenient, at least shut the birds up in a small pen and feed them heavily.

To Be Remembered
When Buying CoatLines, Watchword When Tall or Short Woman Invests in Wrap.

It may be that you cannot, "by taking thought," add one inch to your stature, but you can, by taking thought when you go shopping, subtract, or even to subtract, inches from your silhouette, advises a fashion writer in the Kansas City Star.

If you know yourself as thin and "gangling," even though your friends kindly describe you as "tall and slender," be wary as you select one of the most important articles of your winter wardrobe—your coat. Fashion says, be slender, not thin, painfully thin.

Now, it is obvious that the particular subject of your concern should be lines. The general rule you should remember is that long lines from shoulder to foot give height, and you should, accordingly, avoid length of line, selecting, rather, a garment which incorporates some feature that successfully "cuts" height.

Horizontal lines crossing the figure are one of the first aids to the tall woman who would appear more petite. Look, then, for a coat which achieves horizontal line, either by arrangement of the garment itself or of its trimming. Even a belt cuts off a perceptible part of the tall woman's length, and a coat collar, also, of course, horizontal, seems to increase the size of her throat. But the tall, thin woman

Three-Quarter Length Coat of Mink-

should avoid high collars, and collars that are perpendicular in line, for such collars add inches to her stature.

The "too-tall, too-slender" woman often has an unhappy predilection for extremely severe, tailored, "mannish" coats. Coats of this type invariably emphasize the very defects she should attempt to conceal. A short coat, in jaunty, box style, is a garment that should not only cut her height in a felicitous way, but give to her too-thin figure a rounder, more pleasing line. The woman who is tall, and especially in proportion to the length of her waist, should avoid any extreme waistline effect in her coat. If the coat has a waistline at all, it should either be normal or low.

Chintz Gown Novelty

Makes Its Appearance

An absolute novelty is the chintz gown that has made its appearance in designs by Parisian artists. It is so called because many charming models of it are shown by American designers. Chintz was first introduced in garden trucks, anticipating the later season, and it has also been used by some of the best known couturiers to establish a new effect of more formality for afternoon and evening wear.

Phillips et Gaston have designed a strikingly handsome and decidedly elaborate toilette of chintz in bright-colored flower pattern, which is further elaborated with silk embroidery, and is combined with a twilled material in plain color.

In another model—an evening gown of Parisian authority, in flowers and scrolls in lovely colors on an ivory ground—the pattern is traced and pointed with high lights of brilliant crystal beads.

In Patchwork Design

Several of the latest models show a curious new effect in a trimming consisting of appliques of bright colored silks that form a patchwork design. One frock of blue velvet has a pattern extending from neck to hem on the front, while another of black tulle de chine shows a similar decoration as a border around the skirt.

Equally Popular

There are two types of evening slippers in equal favor. One is the demure black satin opera pump without any ornamentation at all. The other is a black satin pump with a flashing buckle and blinding diamond heels.

Novel Accessories

Matching handbags and belts are novel accessories for the girl who wishes to keep a little ahead of the procession.

Laws For Health Lag Behind Sanitary Progress

While the sanitarians of the United States in recent years have led the world in fighting preventable diseases and postponable death, the laws for the protection of public health have failed to keep in step with this progress. This fact is stated in a report just issued of the General Health Bureau.

Recognizing that much of the transmission of disease, with a consequent high death rate, has been due to the common drinking cup, the Bureau undertook a national inquiry of the laws on this subject.

It took as its basis the conclusions of the United States Public Health Service, which, in Bulletin No. 57, charged the common drinking cup, improperly washed between users, with responsibility for the transmission of: tuberculosis, pneumonia, tonsillitis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, infantile paralysis, diphtheria, measles, infectious grippe and common colds.

The rigor of this Federal condemnation in 1915, according to the report, induced other States to take heed and so that the years between 1915 and 1918 saw most of the commonwealth legislatures on record against the menace.

Then, as evidence that Federal authorities were alert for further drastic measures, the Standard Railway Code was offered to the Conference of State Health Authorities in 1920. In the ensuing period this further restriction was applied by thirty-four States for the protection of the traveling public.

"However," says the report, "with all these splendid results there is to be feared in a study of the State laws, fields for further improvement in legislation, designed to guard national and State health, is to achieve its purpose. It becomes pertinent, now that fifteen years have elapsed since the original agitation, to make reference to certain omissions that are evident in the laws as now written.

"Texas has no legislation of any character whatever against this evil. Georgia and South Carolina have adopted the Railway Code, but have no other legislation. Twelve States that have laws against the common drinking cup have not adopted the Railway Code. However, some cover the same ground in their statutes.

"The initial zeal that produced such a flood of legislation," continues the report, "brings to light the fact that many legislatures and the sanitarians who prompted their action failed in having a sufficient view of the scope to which the laws should apply. Few of the States have since given a proper review of their action and have failed to promote amendments that would make up the omissions of the original draft.

"It is true, also, that many State measures lack in effectiveness because of the enforcement personnel available to health officers. This is a general fact, although in large cities there is a greater vigilance; but even in these places the health officers frankly confess their inability to compel general compliance.

"In Durham and Goldsboro, in North Carolina, for instance, the health authorities have arbitrarily ordered all soda fountains to replace their glasses and other vessels with sanitary single-use containers. This same compulsory measure has been adopted at many of the State and county fairs held this year.

Telling of Durham's experience in forbidding all but single-use containers at soda fountains and other public places, J. H. Epperson, Superintendent of the Department of Health, says:

"Our ordinance requiring the use of individual paper containers for the serving of patrons of soft drink establishments is being enforced rigidly. We do not permit the use of glasses under any consideration. We have even gone so far as to require citizens, caravans and other traveling organizations disposing soft drinks to the public to use individual containers.

"I am indeed glad to state that there is little or no opposition at the present time to the use of the individual service at soda fountains. The public in this community is solidly backing the Department in the enforcement of this regulation as evidenced by the fact that recently the grand jury took notice of the ordinance and complimented the efforts of the officers in the rigid enforcement of the law.

"I am of the opinion that any community who attempts the use of sterilizers at soda fountains is simply wasting effort so far as preventing the spread of infection by the use of so-called sterilized glasses. It has been my experience that the average soda fountain boy will avoid the law in every way possible.

The removal of all glassware from the fountain and the use of the individual cup will accomplish the purpose for which the law was intended.

"I am positive that the use of the individual container will never be discontinued in Durham."

The results that have attended the passage of legislation against the common drinking cup are unobtainable," continues the report. "They leave their favorable mark in the tables of morbidity and death; they are to be seen in the expanded span of life.

"It is finally, then, that all persons or organizations working for the general health strive for: "Enforcement of existing statutes.

"Support of serious health off-cers.

"Amendments to the existing laws that will make them uniform

with best legislation, applicable to new conditions and sufficiently drastic

The Paramount

"K—THE UNKNOWN"—Mary Roberts Rinehart's great love story provides splendid entertainment to day at the Paramount.

The new picture is a dramatic story of hospital life revolving about a physician, who reveals his identity and faces arrest to save a life.

A notable cast appears in the new picture. Percy Marmont noted for his work in "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," "If Winter Comes and Other Recent Features" play the title role of K. LeMay, the physician of mystery. Varvara Fisher noted star of some years ago returns to the screen as Callotta, the fiery Spanish nurse who is the Nemesis of the physician. John Roche appears as Dr. Max, the other dominant figure in the story. Others in the big cast are Maurice Ryan, Francis Tenny, Myrtle Vane and William A. Carroll.

A complete hospital was constructed at Universal City for the new picture and the dramatic climax is the reproduction of a surgical operation which, despite its fidelity to detail is said to be robbed of any hint of the gruesome by careful directing.

Wednesday and Thursday, Hoot Gibson will be seen in "The Sawdust Trail."

The Soisson

"JEALOUS HUSBANDS"—A First National picture featuring Jane Novak and Earle Williams is the leading attraction today and tomorrow at the Soisson.

The story revolves about the complications that follow the unfounded jealousy of Ramon Martinez, a wealthy San Francisco capitalist. He gives his son to a band of Gypsies after having his suspicions of the boy's parentage aroused by the discovery of an undressed letter in his wife's purse—a letter sent to his sister by an unscrupulous admirer.

A thrilling automobile accident is the means by which his suspicions are proved to be false and then begins the heartrending task of finding his boy. He travels over continents and oceans, and when fate seems to smile a pretender was foisted up on him. But the mother intuitively knew that the youth was not her real son and she solved the problem.

Earle Williams has the part of Ramon. Jane Novak that of his wife, and Ben Alexander is cast as their son.

Richard Barthelmess will be seen Thursday, Friday and Saturday in "The Enchanted Cottage."

The Orpheum

"WORLDLY GOODS"—On view today at the Orpheum picture Agnes Ayres, popular comedian, is supported by Jesse L. Labby in the leading role.

"Worldly Goods" is a combination of the first two almost resulting in the last. In other words, "Worldly Goods" starring Agnes Ayres is a comedy drama of matrimony on the screen. It is the story of Sophie, a girl which opened at the Orpheum yesterday with a happy ending even though the final scene is in the divorce court.

Pat O'Malley has the leading man's role opposite the star in the production and Victor Varconi and Edythe Chapman are also well cast.

The story has to do with money as a factor in matrimony. It is said that two can live as cheaply as one. "Did you ever try it?" said Fred Hopper (Pat O'Malley). If not, let us see how many words. His wife is afflicted as Hopper sees it with the usual feminine longing for the pleasures of life—worldly goods and food but able to supply them. So the two go out to earn enough money to help him—and that almost finishes their

Here's Quick and Lasting Relief from PILES

For years the generally accepted treatment for Hemorrhoids or Piles has been by the insertion of many so-called antiseptics and a trip to the toilet. Such treatment while they in many cases give relief, never reached or a cure on the cause of the trouble and this was also true of surgical operations, for the surgeon's knife did not cure but simply removed the formation after development.

You get to attack the real cause of the piles and not the piles themselves and you've got to do it from a constitutional standpoint and this is just what the Hamudala treatment does. It attacks the cause and not the formation and the cause once removed all those painful congested, knotted and stagnated blood vessels are restored to their normal function and blood bleeding or protruding piles become a thing of the past.

The Hamudala treatment is now being obtained at Union Drug Store, all good druggists under a five day guarantee. Out of ten sufferers can obtain by mail Price $1.00. The Hamudala Co., Box 41, Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement

The Arcade

There isn't a city in the country but what has somewhere in it a man identical with the central figure in "Smilin' Through" being presented by the Kramer players at the Arcade Theatre this week. It is the story of a man who has struggled for happiness and never found it because of the fact that his slant has been all wrong. "Smilin' Through" just such a man finds the answer to all of his difficulties and in the end discovers happiness.

"Smilin' Through" is a quaint, whimsical play that tells out of the ordinary. The prologue with which it starts, shows two figures smiling through and smiling they might help the man to see and understand. They fade out and the action of the play begins.

There is the young girl who is separated from her lover because he is the son of a man whom her guardian has always hated. The genial, hearted sweet old physician the crusty house maid and the sultry favored by the guardian. Then there is the dream in which the just comes back and is lived all over again different this time only in that the old man now sees the follies of his youth and learns the lesson that he did not learn in those younger days.

CALL ASBESTOS "MISSING LINK"

Mineral Justifies Nickname
of Men Who Blast
It Out of Rock.

Washington.—Mining the "missing link" between rocks and plants is the job a French Canadian town of 12,000 does for a waiting world.

"Asbestos justifies in many ways the nickname given it by the men who blast it out of nature's rock vaults," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society from its headquarters at Washington, D. C., "for it is a physical paradox even if it cannot bridge the gap separating the boulder and the sapling.

"Asbestos can be woven like cotton; in the natural state it looks like spun glass in bundles. It is as smooth as silk to touch. Like the volatile heroes of Chinese myths, it is now a roof, changes to theater curtain or coat, becomes paper, or imprisons live steam to hard labor, prevents thousands of automobile crashes every day, and may hide itself in the rustle of a silk dress.

"Thetford Mines, 75 miles directly south of Quebec, is cradled in a valley whose ridges are outliers of Vermont's presiding glory, the Green mountains. Travelers on the main highway south from Quebec to the United States easily recognize Thetford Mines, or its little sister town of Black Lake, because a pall of white asbestos dust hangs over both. This cloud obscures the great dumps of rock refuse, reliable foothills or plateaus themselves, and the gleaming towers of the typically large French Canadian churches. Travelers may have difficulty understanding Thetford's people, though, save for the English mine managers, they are as French as Gascogne.

"Asbestos is one of the few non-metallic minerals of great use to mankind; its partners are coal and sulphur. Although it is frequent in the serpentine rock from Gaspé to the Carolinas and elsewhere, the deposits near Thetford Mines supply more than 80 per cent of the world's asbestos needs.

"Read two books on end and pile a handful of matches between them with the matches at right angles to the walls supplied by the books. There you have an approximation of the manner in which the glassy-green natural asbestos occurs in rock.

Bands, Stretches and Resists Heat.

"In the whole amazing range of crystals of various substances with the perfect pyramiding, sectoring and cutting found in nature, no crystals are probably more remarkable than asbestos. Imagine a smokestack 1,000 feet high. This approximates the proportions of an asbestos fiber crystal. Now if the smokestack will bend like a willow in the wind and stretch like a stiff spring; if it can resist terrific heat, and be impervious to practically all acids, oxygen and moisture, it can do what the marvelous asbestos crystal does. If one takes a block of asbestos and rubs the crystal bundles lengthwise a fluff of white fiber will spring up as if by magic. These fibers can be carded, spun and woven into cloth with almost the same facility as new cotton or wool.

"Roman nobles and even Charlemagne liked a few parlor tricks with their demi-tasse. To set the mouths of their guests agape they nonchalantly throw table cloths into charcoal burners. But visitors who dashed for the exits must have come back to wonder for the cloths did not burn; they were asbestos. Modern use of asbestos dates from the development of Italian mines in the beautiful Alpine valleys of Suse, approached from France through the Mont Cenis tunnel, and the Aosta valley. One of its important applications, packing for engines, still craves one of the principal demands.

"At Thetford Mines pit operation is the general practice, although there are a few galleries. Any rock with veins running 8 per cent asbestos is worth working.

Brake Bands a Major Use.

"Rock with fine veins goes to the crushers to be reduced to small bits. Rock with rich veins is carved open by hand and the virgin asbestos sent to a big room where girls yield hammers to break the asbestos into a pliable fibrous mass. No mechanical means has been discovered to make this high-grade asbestos which is used for brake bands, the largest present demand for asbestos, cloth, heat packing, and insulation.

"The crushed serpentine rock and asbestos goes to a series of screens mounted by suction tubes. The tubes pneumatically remove the fibers and grade them. Poorer grades of asbestos are used for paper, roofing, asbestos paint, and for weighting silk. They provide pipe coverings to conserve heat, coils and spools on shores for gun working on hot floors, and supply guards to protect glass-blowers. The United States last year imported nearly $7,000,000 worth of raw asbestos."

Cheap Drama in London.

Rough Gray Wool, Bound
in Red and Blue Plaid

One can safely bid defiance to wintry blasts when protected by this warm and smart coat of shaggy wool-on material.

Cheviots and Features

You Should Know About

About this time of year, when one is looking for warm, compact cloth for outdoor wear, cheviot on the counter is a positive inspiration, says the Kansas City Star.

Now, although you may hear the term cheviot quite indiscriminately applied to nearly any sort of heavy, rough-finished woolen material, true cheviot is quite a definite thing. It is a worsted or woolen material manufactured from "cheviot" or "pulled wool," slightly felted, and with short, even nap. The worsted cheviots are made from combed yarn, and come in both plain and fancy effects. The woolen cheviots are made of carded yarn, often with shoddy or cotton in its makeup. Woolen cheviots come in both twill and plain weaves.

Whatever the grade of cheviot you buy, the distinctive feature of the cloth is its finish. This may be either "rough" or "close," but the cheviot in the strict sense has the rough finish. The process of finishing cheviot is practically the same, however, regardless of whether it is to be "close" or "rough" surface. The cloth is washed just after it leaves the loom, and then "pulled"—shrunk both in length and breadth. This "pulling" process gives the cloth its characteristic heavy, dense effect. The material is then "killed" or napped, and taken to the shearing machine, where the long, irregular nap is cut down evenly. The closeness with which the nap is cut determines whether the cloth is to have a rough or a close finish.

You will know real wool cheviot by this hairy surface. It is usually woven in twill weave, and appears somewhat like serge. If you are in doubt as to whether the cloth is woolen, horridly pull out some of these threads, and try on them the usual tests for wool. The simplest of these is to burn a thread—if it burns slowly, and with a disagreeable odor, the thread is wool. If it burns more quickly, with less smell and a brighter flame, it is cotton.

Wool cheviot is exceedingly durable if you buy it in a good quality. But if you buy a cheap cheviot it not only looks cheap from the first, but the hairs soon pull out and wear off, and the cloth becomes actually ragged.

Cheviot, at its best, is an ideal suit material, and you cannot make a better choice for your street costume. You can buy the cloth in patterns of light stripes or small checks.

Followers of Fashion

Will Know New Modes

It is important to bear in mind that the new offerings of the Paris designers by no means represent the final autumn mode, judgment on which must be deferred until the public reaction can be gauged, asserts a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Herald-Tribune.

"The points of departure between the new mode and the old are numerous but not radical. There is a definite trend toward new ideas in waistline, sleeves and silhouette, although these changes have not yet taken full effect, among the ultra-conservative element which hesitates to sponsor any theme that is distinctly different. It is our prediction, however, that as the season progresses, the new tendencies will meet with such favor and become so pronounced that even the most casual dilettante will be readily able to distinguish the new autumn mode from its predecessor.

Clever Scheme in Remodeling

A clever way of remodeling an old house of black satin or velvet is in the addition of a tulle of velvet to a brilliant shade. The trick, that suggested this is of black satin, with a tulle of bright blue velvet bordered with a wide band of black satin, and this is joined to the velvet there is an unbridled design in black and tulle. The effect is unusually smart.

"Bill" Gillespie Named Captain of Dunbar Twp. Team; Squad Banquetted

Kenneth Tissue Is Manager for Next Season; Speeches Are Heard.

FRED C. SMITH IS HOST

William Gillespie was elected captain of the 1932 Dunbar Township football team last evening just prior to the annual football banquet held at the Dunbar Township Club. Gillespie, who makes his home at Liberty, has been a varsity man for the past three years. For the first two years on the team, Bill played guard and this year was at tackle. An injury to his elbow kept him out of several games. Gillespie succeeded Harry Landymore.

Kenneth Tissue of Trotter left tackle was given the managerial post this year. Tissue replaces Andrew Hines who will be graduated next June.

Eighty-eight persons attended the banquet the donor of which was Fred C. Smith of Dunbar. Mr. Smith is a 100 per cent Dunbar Township fan. He is an ex-member of the school board, ex-union supervisor and at present is tax collector.

Nineteen members of the squad received letters. They were John and William Blakely, Kenneth Tissue, Ralph Furwalt, Bill Work, Harry Landymore, Andrew Hines, William Herron, Thomas Sweeney, Thomas Browne, Leslie Shallenberger, Michael Zeka, Wilbur Smith, John Rusak, Scott and William Hudkins, Harry Senior, Dave Ball and William Gillespie.

Superintendent R. K. Smith of the township schools was the toastmaster and after a lengthy introductory introduction of the donor of the banquet who gave a short talk and congratulated the squad. President A. C. Edwards of the school board followed with a short talk. J. G. Streamer, coach, and B. M. Shearer, assistant coach, spoke as did H. H. Henson, former football mentor. Dr. Orland F. Leighty, who refereed several games, gave a talk. President Bryce J. Colbert of the Alumni Association, spoke. Benton Floyd, superintendent of the Trotter coke plant and another 100 per cent fan talked as did Dr. Harry J. Ball, the school physician. H. E. Mason, superintendent of the Erie plant at Leisenering the caravan marshal at the Thanksgiving game addressed the banquet. Harry Adams, a member of the school board, talked about the school and the school without a defeat, also spoke. Principal W. E. Tiebold delivered an address. Others who spoke were Michael Korns, a member of the alumni association, Captain Landymore, Thomas Sweeney, Ray Holding, Manager Hines, Captain elect Gillespie and Manager elect Tissue.

The high school orchestra under the leadership of the director, Herbert M. Anweiler, gave a musical program. Miss Madeline Ansel, a member of the Junior class, sang "Wonder What's become of Sally" and Mandelky Kathryn Sichel, a freshman, sang "Garden in Sweden" and On the Blue Lagoon. Clyde Gangware, a Junior, sang a humorous selection, "Go Home Mule" and was accompanied on the piano by Director Anweiler and the orchestra.

The banquet hall was beautifully decorated in red and black the school's colors. The tables were laid out in the form of a horseshoe. Dr. Ball in his address, said that although he never saw a football game in all his life he believed it was a game far different from any other. Football is the aristocrat of sports, the doctor stated. "Not that it is a stuck up game quite the contrary. But it is the peer of them all. To play football you must be a man. Anybody can play basketball and baseball and still not be a man but not so with the gridiron sport. You must be physically perfect before you can be a star," the school physician pointed out.

"Football," Dr. Ball said in concluding his talk, "is the only game that is confined only to educated men. The high schools, colleges and universities take up the sport and only men who go to these institutions are ever heard of throughout the world as stars. There are many men who are baseball and basketball stars who cannot write their own name or are unable to read but name a football star who is incapacitated in that measure. You football warriors have something to be proud of. You are a selected lot of many."

Sixty-four persons for the 1932 football season was urged by the coach and assistant manager, Joseph G. Streamer and Bruce M. Shearer in their talks. You sons of the gridiron are in excellent physical condition and you must stay that way, they said. "Show your good faith and keep in good condition and I will tell the people that next year Dunbar Township will close the season with a clean slate."

Benton Floyd's address was well received. Mr. Floyd spoke on the effect of sports on advancement of school work. He pointed out how the schools are receiving advertising by the games and the boosting it receives by having a good football team. He stated that the colleges are in their stadium stage of advancement and commented on the proposed stadium in Connelville.

"You won't make fame this year by picking up fumbles and rushing for the goal," Mr. Floyd said. "I want you to apply that to life. Everybody in this world is given a ball and a goal is set before him in whatever line he expects to participate. When the man before you drops his ball why not pick it up where he dropped it and just get one step further than he was. That's the spirit that wins for you."

It takes impression and expression to make progression. Principal W. E. Tiebold said. We get impression with our eyes and ears by listening to the coaches' words and seeing the work on the board in skull practice. You can give expression with the tongue and body movement. As for progression look over your record. It is only through the combination that we can term this a successful season," Mr. Tiebold commented.

Cuddy DeMarco to Meet Canadian in Main Fight Card

Cuddy DeMarco, the Charleroi idol may meet Chris Newton of Toronto, Canada in the 10-round main bout in the proposed boxing show to be staged in the Slavic Hall, West Side, Connelville on January 12. The two pugilists have battled before with a decision of a draw being awarded by the judges and both are anxious to clash once more.

Contracts were mailed to the two pugilists who sometime ago signified their approval of the fight. The Charleroi fighter is termed as a first rate boxer as is the Canadian and the "ans" will not be given a second or third rate exhibition of pugilistic ability.

HIGH SCHOOL TO BEGIN ITS FLOOR SEASON FRIDAY

A stiff floor practice was held by the High School basketball team yesterday afternoon. The Cokers will open the season Friday evening with the German Township quintet.

The locals are beginning to shape up now and Coach Settle is steadily reducing his squad to a point nearer a good working basis. Following the German Township game Friday there will be another Saturday night against Redstone Township.

Fred Smith Pinsetter While Ed Mason Beats Benton Boyd at D'Run

Fred Smith of Dunbar set pins last evening at the Dickinson Run Y. M. C. A. alleys while Ed Mason, superintendent of the Leisenering No. 1 plant of the H. C. Frick Coke Company defeated Benton Boyd, superintendent of the Trotter plant.

Mason had things his way from the first frame in the annual combat for bowling honors between the officials of the two neighboring plants. Opening with a strike in the initial box, Mr. Mason finished with a 107 while his opponent was unable to knock down more than 73. All took place before the annual football banquet of the Dunbar Township team.

Getting It Straight

"I don't know if you've heard what I've heard."

"I don't know what you've heard, but if you've heard what I've heard you've heard, you've heard wrong."

County League Will Be Strong Sport Feature

At a meeting of managers of all the County League basketball teams in Uniontown last night, the organization was completed and the date set for the opening of the season was December 12. The schedule was drawn up and adopted and once the various managers receive copies the games which conflict with other attractions in the communities of the home teams will be switched to more suitable nights.

A meeting to be held next Monday night the playing contracts of the various teams will be turned in. There are now in the hands of the different managers who are handling the matter of securing players. A floor man may play on only one team. At the same time the $25 forfeits will be turned in to the league treasurer. This money will be returned at the end of the season and if a team drops before it completes the schedule the funds will be split among the remaining clubs.

The league will be composed of eight teams. They are three from Uniontown, the Pay More Legion and the Juniors, two from Connelville, the Unity Fraternity and the Casey Club, Point Marion, Brownsville and Republic.

A constitution and set of rules were adopted by the league managers last night. President Charles Brock presided at the meeting.

The league managers are waving enthusiasm over the proposition. In Uniontown fans are awaiting the opening of the schedule and that city is going to be back of the movement in a big fashion. In this city the basketball fever is slowly taking hold but once the games are under way and team rivalry begins to mount it is felt the clubs will prove good drawing cards.

Each team will take care of its own expenses. The home team will keep the receipts of its own games. The league will be kept on an amateurish basis. No player will receive a salary. Sport is the outstanding feature of the organization and although support will be needed to keep the teams operating the plan is not to commercialize the games.

The season will be divided into two parts. The second half will close the latter part of March and if championship games are necessary they will be played the following week.

Uniontown's aggregate strength will be fairly well split up because of the fact there are three teams there. Point Marion looks like the strongest contender. In Connelville, local clubs will rival those of county character as the Casey Club and Unity Fraternity series always have proven worth-while games.

During the entire two seasons each team will meet four times twice at home and twice away.

With the culture of teams represented by such managers as were present last night the high standard of the league from a sporting standpoint is assured.

The matter of referees was taken up and the officials who desire to get some of the games are invited to make application through Secretary Alex Fretzsch. Then these applications will be acted upon by the executive committee of the league.

Connellsville Wins Three and Ties for First Place in League

Winning three straight games from Dickinson Run, the Manchester Plant and Bowling Leagues, went into a tie for first place with Vanderbilt, which team was able to take out two out of three from Perryopolis.

The first game was hotly contested, the home team winning by a margin of 17 pins but the next two were wild. Manchester won by margins of 191 and 160 pins. Dickinson Run was unable to do much on the strange alleys.

Vanderbilt won the first by a margin of 12 pins and the second by 17 pins but dropped the last contest by a margin of 14. The strategy of the captain Steve Valovic was shown in the last conflict when he made two substitutions.

GRADUAL DWINDLING OF EAST SUPREMACY

Effete Sections Forced to Admit West Coming Fast.

It has come gradually but surely and now it has reached a crisis—the last no longer rules the country. In football circles the West has been coming along with mighty strides. It is not a matter of guesswork (this claim that one team is better than another). Interest and games have removed the doubt of it all. The West has arrived.

Notre Dame has no much to help along this process and will do more. So has Chicago and so has Iowa. They too will do more.

Just recently Brown's Bears came along admittedly in no perfect shape as it is possible for a big squad to be. They had beaten Colby a tight team a week before 10 to 0 and were quite chummy. They played Chicago which had been beaten a week before by Missouri. Stiggs' men whipped them to ribbons 19 to 7.

Notre Dame trounced the Army and the Rockne legion of followers believe almost anything is possible that Knute puts his hand to.

In 1922 Iowa without its Desha boys and sons Stairs, took 14 to 0 a merry 6-0 defeat.

If the East isn't actually fading then the West is looming amazingly.

British to Ignore Golf Ball Change in America

Conservative old St. Andrews whence the game of golf spread around the world does not approve of the new ball which it is proposed to standardize in the United States.

There is no quarrel with the American attitude that the ball now in use is a little too lively and carry too far when hit by powerful drivers, on that the British players who compose the golf balls subcommittee of the Royal and Ancient Golf club agree with their brethren across the Atlantic. But it is their opinion that the bigger and lighter ball proposed in America is so small a change from those now in use that it doesn't really make much difference. The committee intends however to go ahead with its own tests designed to bring about a new standard in golf balls.

Meanwhile should the change take place British golfers visiting America will have to play with the American standard ball and when American invade England in quest of titles and trophies of the game they must use the smaller heavier and longer-carrying British ball.

Maiberry's Short Career

Fred Maiberry, baseball player with the Washington Senators, cost quickly from a bush league to star in a world series. He started his professional baseball career with the Mexican team of the Texas (Chihuahua) league in 1922 having been picked up by Alvin Karpis. A scout for the Little Rock team saw Maiberry strike out 11 men in a game with the Shreveport team and paid $750 for him. He went from Little Rock to Washington.

SHOW YOU

The visiting light appeared again. It was so feverishly active now as it had been motionless on its previous visits. It touched his face, tilted about, and came to rest on the forehead of his head. It touched his hand, and flew to the opposite wall. It played about his lips and leaped to the door leading to the hall, where it glowed silently on a panel.

Renshaw watched it with a gaze that shifted when it did. If he closed his eyes, it lingered on the lids till he reopened them. Its character changed. It had been interesting as first. It became annoying, like the repeated attacks of one mosquito on a hot night. It became more than annoying. It became first infuriating and at last simply devilish.

He rose and, going in turn to the rooms four windows, started out at each. With his movement the light disappeared. He could see nothing outside but the storm and the tortured, wind-flung branches of oaks and maples. He went to his door, opened it and glanced down the dark corridor. No sound or movement there rewarded him. He closed the door, replaced the chair-lack under the knob, and returned to his bed. As soon as he was comfortably settled, the blue light entered, touched his face, and danced for a moment on the wall. Then suddenly it grew quiet and remained fixed in one spot, like a watchful and infernal blue eye.

The clock struck two, the deep-toned strokes sounding ominous in the darkness. Two o'clock! And he had been on the edge of his nerves since eleven! That sort of thing would not do—it simply could not be endured. Tomorrow he would tell Campbell that he, Renshaw, must go away, that he was not up to the work.

He Threw Open the Door and Stared Incredulously. Verity Campbell Stood Before Him.

But no, that would not do, either. He had already shown that he was up to the work. Campbell had referred at dinner to a lot of things to be done the next day. Well, then, he could say he was not in as good condition as he had imagined.

A sudden memory seared his consciousness. He could not resign! He had no situation to resign—simply because he had refused a situation. He was not his own master. He was, for a year, David Campbell's property, bought and, in part, actually paid for. On the morning of the day that had only just ended, Campbell had given him a generous advance on the purchase price; and the greater part of that advance he, Renshaw, had already spent in town. Even assuming that he was willing to brook the argument he and Campbell had entered into, he must work a month to pay off the obligation imposed by that advance. In other words, he was a fixture here. He could not leave.

His eyes had closed and he had almost lost consciousness when he heard a noise in the hall. It was not the familiar thump, nor was it the equally abhorrent sound of crawling. It was the sound of footsteps—light and running. There was also the sound of hurried, excited breathing and of a rap on his door. He sprang out of bed and hastened to open it. It was alarmed, but it was normal. He threw open the door and stared incredulously. Verity Campbell stood before him in the darkness. He could not see her, but he knew her, even before she spoke to him in a voice hushed and terrified.

"Oh, Mr. Renshaw," she gasped, "please come with me quickly! I can't find either Jenks or James—and something dreadful has happened to grandfather!"

Renshaw nodded and stepped back into his room.

"One moment," he said, "and I will be with you."

He thrust his feet into slippers and pulled a dressing gown over his pajamas, knotting the cords of the robe as he rejoined her. He had to run to catch up with her. Having summoned him, she was almost at the end of the corridor when she felt him beside her. As they hurried past the central hall landing and into the west wing of the house, he asked a low-toned question or two. She replied in a voice that trembled.

"Madame Elvostief is with him," she said. "I called her first, when I could not get the servants. I can't imagine what has happened to Jenks. He is so reliable and faithful. But Aunt Katharine says they take a car and go into town sometimes at night, and perhaps she is right, though I never thought so."

"What's the matter with your grandfather?"

Renshaw's long, swinging stride was easily keeping pace now with her shorter steps.

"I don't know. I heard a fall. His bedroom is next to mine, you know. I thought I heard a groan. I ran out in the hall to his door and knocked. When there was no answer, I went in. He was lying in his bedroom, on the floor."

"Unconscious?"

"I don't know. I ran for help—for Jenks first, then, when I couldn't find him, for Madame Elvostief. Auntie is of no use, of course, in a crisis, as we didn't even wake her."

She stopped as they reached what was evidently the door of the old man's bedroom, and passed through in silence, leaving the door open for Renshaw to follow her.

His first impulse was one of shock at the seeming lifelessness of the prone figure on the floor, over which Madame Elvostief was distractedly keeping guard. Her dark face lighted up with relief as the young man joined her.

"I have not ventured to do anything," she explained in a quick whisper. "He breathes; but I did not know if it would be wise to lift his head."

Renshaw knelt beside his master, and his heart lightened. He had been afraid of violence, even of tragedy. Anything, he now believed, might happen in Tawno Ker. But seemingly what had happened was common enough. The old man had felt ill, had risen, had perhaps tried to call for help, and had fallen unconscious.

He Lifted the Light Figure in His Arms as Easily as if It Had Been the Body of a Child.

"What is it?"

Verity asked the question in a whisper. The young man went on with his hurried examination.

"A shock, I'm afraid."

"Is he dying?"

"No—no, indeed. He's unconscious, but his heart is working well. The first thing to do is to make him comfortable."

He lifted the light figure in his arms as easily as if it had been the body of a child, and carrying it to the bed laid it between the sheets, drawing the bodolthing carefully up around it.

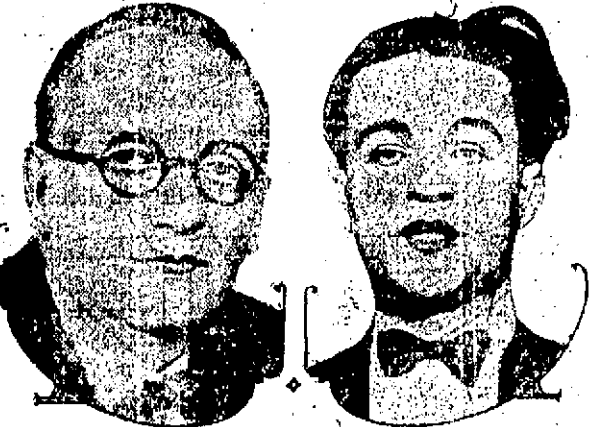

"We've got to get a doctor here in a jiffy," he muttered. "And can't we stir up some of those servants?"

He was interrupted by the appearance of Jenks, who had knocked unheard and entered. He hurried to his master's side with an expression of acute concern on his round face.

"The doctor, sir?" he said, answering Renshaw's words before the latter had finished speaking. "I will telephone to Wainley at once. There's a very good doctor there. I've heard—Doctor Morris. Then I will get Doctor Stanley on the telephone—unless there's something more urgent here, sir?"
